

Experience is Key

by Mary Barton

Marathon Coach continually strives to provide the highest quality coaches and service in the bus conversion industry. A significant factor in accomplishing that goal is an experienced workforce. Recently, Marathon's Human Resources department conducted a survey, which had some interesting results.

As of October 1, 2004, 9.7% of Marathon employees had been with the company for 15 years or more; 27.9% have been with the company for more than 10 years. And an amazing 56.8% of employees have been with Marathon longer than 5 years.

Marathon's workforce has a total of 2,664.85 years of experience producing and servicing Marathon coaches. With 432 employees, that averages out to 6.17 years of experience per employee.

Marathon Coach is very proud that it has such a dedicated family to help the company serve its customers and remain the leader in the industry. •
